Subject: Uber in Charleston

The infrastructure provided by the state and local services for affordable transport is practically non existent.

Uber provides an affordable, reliable and safe solution whilst benefitting equally the drivers in our local community.

Until there is a better alternative I see no logical reason to restrict übers ability to operate, all that will happen is you will have more drunk drivers, vulnerable walks home and long wait, expensive private taxis.

Regards,

Ben

Subject: Uber should stay in Charleston

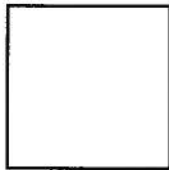

Uber is available in all large cities in the US. This service is reliable and necessity for any up and coming and established city. Every city I have visited in the past year that has a population close or above 100,000 has Uber. It is safe, easy to use and reliable unlike the other taxi services in Charleston. I don't know how many times I have called a cab and I see someone else up the street take my cab before I can get to it, or the cab says they will offer some sort of discounted rate because we are going to two locations and then they hit us up for a large cab fee. I don't like the cab service in Charleston but Uber has worked perfect for me so far. No money is exchanged and no one complains about having to run a credit card because all your information is already secured in their system. If Charleston is supposed to be an up and coming silicon harbor they need to not run off every modern system that is working for so many other cities in the US.

Thank you,

Jason Corn

Great job South Carolina,

Way to keep our state really moving forward with the rest of the country and world. What an absolute joke to pull Uber and reduce the amount of safe travel options for your citizens. The cab companies throughout our state are absolutely atrocious, outdated, and unreliable.

Godspeed

Subject: In support of UBER

I travel the world, including visiting Charleston, South Carolina every year. My first choice of transportation is UBER.

This year I have already used UBER in Beirut, Lebanon. Last year I used it in Paris, France and London, England. I used it in numerous cities throughout the United States, including New York, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Charleston and Richmond. For me, it is safe, reliable and very sensible for business because we know in advance how much the trip will cost.

When I visit cities, I want to know that I will be safe when I get into a taxi. I do not feel safe with local services because I am unfamiliar with them. For instance, in Richmond, Virginia, I was once maliciously attacked by a taxi driver. He was self employed running his own single vehicle local taxi service. He was not an UBER driver. It was severe enough that I prosecuted him, successfully, in the Richmond County Court. It was revealed that this individual had previous felony convictions and spent 14 years in prison for fraud. He had tried to defraud me before attacking me.

Now I use UBER because I know that they have had their backgrounds checked. I feel safer. It encourages tourism to provide a safe environment and travel options.

I do urge you very strongly to reinstate the UBER service prior to my next visit to Charleston South Carolina, this coming March.

Thank you for your consideration.

Bartholomew
